

RESPONSIBLE CARE® POLICY

NOVA Chemicals is committed to being a leader in achieving and maintaining superior Responsible Care performance.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

The following principles reflect the ethic of Responsible Care and guide our conduct worldwide. We will:

- Operate in accordance with all applicable laws and regulations and adhere to the following: NOVA Chemicals' internal health, safety, environmental and security standards; local health, safety, environmental and security standards; and the chemical industry's Responsible Care requirements.
- Manage our business on the premise that all incidents that could result in harm to people, property or the environment can be prevented.
- Provide leadership to ensure all employees and contractors understand their responsibilities and are provided with the training and support necessary to integrate Responsible Care principles into their work.
- Provide the human, material and financial resources required to meet our Responsible Care commitments.
- Identify and manage issues using a risk-based approach and the best available science and industry practices.
- Understand the health, safety, environmental, security and resource impacts of our products throughout their lifecycles.
- Seek and incorporate public input regarding our products and operations, and review our performance with our stakeholders to facilitate continuous improvement.
- Support education and research to address health, safety, environmental and security issues of relevance to NOVA Chemicals.
- Participate proactively in the development of Responsible Care-related public policy processes and industry standards.
- Foster business relationships with companies that demonstrate a commitment to responsible health, safety, environmental and security management practices.

Randy Woelfel
Chief Executive Officer